

Target Participants

The course will cater officials from the government line departments and civil society organizations dealing with policies and implementing projects under climate resilient agriculture, green value chain development and other related areas. Representatives from the financial institutions offering green financial services to the agrifood sector in the Asia-Pacific region, with special reference to GMS, are also invited to join.

One full scholarship per country will be offered to CLMVT. Interested individuals may apply for scholarship in this link.
